

March 2013 – Week 1

Eric Wright, building supervisor

In April, Wright will celebrate his 10th year of working for Queensbury Union Free School District. He serves as the building supervisor at Queensbury High School.

What do you enjoy about being a part of the Queensbury school community?

"Working with the kids and the staff."

"I truly enjoy being a part of the Queensbury school community for a number of reasons. Specifically, I value the high academic standards the school, as well as the families, place on students, the amount of in school, and out of school activities available to children, and the friendships I've made while working in the district."

When you're not working, what are some of your favorite interests and activities?

"I like to fish and hunt."

"When I'm not working I love to spend time with my family and friends. I enjoy being outdoors doing activities like skiing, snowboarding, hiking, running, water skiing, and spending time on my boat. A hobby of mine is planting flowers and gardening."

In what ways do you try to support the greater Queensbury community and/or specific charitable organizations/groups?

"I try to help out as much as possible with the vast variety of benefits we have here at the school."

"The past few years I've been involved in the American Cancer Society Relay for Life, United Way, Adopt-A-Family, Toys For Tots, and Adopt-An-Angel."

Amanda Denno, special education teacher

Denno has worked in the district for four years. She is a special education teacher at the William H. Barton Intermediate School
